

New Teacher Onboarding

Talbiyah.ai - your quick-start checklist

1. Get set up on the platform

- ☐ Sign up / get your account created
You'll receive a login link by email. Sign in and complete your teacher profile (photo, bio, subjects) - this is required before students can book you.
- ☐ Set your weekly availability
Go to your Teacher Hub and set the times you're free to teach. Students book directly against your open slots.
- ☐ Set up your payment details
Add your bank/payout details so your earnings can be paid out monthly.
- ☐ Read the required onboarding resources
Found under Teaching Guide & Resources in your Teacher Hub - includes platform guides, safeguarding, and teaching methodology.
- ☐ Sign the Teaching Agreement
A short covenant covering what we expect of every Talbiyah teacher. You can't start teaching lessons until this is signed.

2. Pay

Flat GBP3/hour to start. This is raised manually by an admin as you settle in and build a track record - there's no automatic tier system to worry about.

3. How a lesson works

- A student books a slot against your set availability.
- You'll get a reminder email before the lesson.
- When you join the lesson room, the student is automatically nudged (in-app + email) if they haven't joined yet - and vice versa.
- After the lesson, add a transcript (paste or record) so AI-generated study notes go out to the student automatically.

4. The Talbiyah way - how we teach

Our method: Understanding, then Fluency, then Memorisation (tadabbur, tilawah, hifz) - not memorisation-first. Keep it warm, direct and conversational, not a lecture.

- No jargon without explaining it - especially for reverts and new Muslims.
- Real-life scenarios and analogies over textbook explanations.
- Patience with questions - every question is a good question.
- See the full Teaching Agreement and Talbiyah Method card in your Teacher Hub for the complete picture.

5. Where to go if you're stuck

Message Nathan directly while you're settling in. Nothing is too small to ask.

Assalamu alaikum, and welcome to the Talbiyah.ai team - we're glad to have you.
